Miss Farrar's Latest Film is Showing HereIt is a Lasky Picture and is at the Local Paramount Theater.Those who saw Geraldine Farrar, the celebrated prima donna, in the Jesse L. Lasky photodramatic version of her famous opera "Carmen," have another treat in store when she appears in "Temptation" at the Robinson Grand today.As "Carmen," Miss Farrar was seen as the fascinating half-wild, wholly cruel, heartless gypsy. In "Temptation," written especially for her by Hector Turnbull, she is seen in a totally different characterization—that of a true and sympathetic sweetheart of a poor composer. It is a Paramount picture.That distinguished dramatic artist, Theodore Roberts, as Otto Mueller, theimpresario, is seen in one of the best characterizations in which he has appeared since he has been with the Lasky company. Those who have followed Mr. Roberts in his stage and screen career, know what to expect and it is enough to say that they will not be disappointed.As Madame Maroff, Elsie Jane Wilson, Muller's discarded plaything, has a part exactly suited to her wonderful emotional ability.The remainder of the cast is of the usual Lasky excellence.As in "Carmen" nothing has been spared on the production. The scenes in the opera house are correct in detail and magnificent in scope.Tomorrow, the accomplished dramatic star, Edmund Breese, with Arthur Hoops will be presented in "The Lure of Heart's Desire.""The Birth of a Nation," David W.
Griffith's mighty film spectacle, opens an engagement of three days Monday, February 23 at the Robinson Grand.
The first half of the great picture exhibits the salient events of the Civilwar, which came to a close at Appomattox just fifty years ago. Lincoln's call for troops, Sherman's march, the battle of Vicksburg, Lee's surrender to Grant and the awful tragedy at Ford's theater live before the spectator of the Griffith drama. In the secondScene from "The Birth of a Nation."—D. W. Griffith's stupendous Photoplay, Which Will Be at the Robinson Grand Next Week.war, which came to a close at Appomattox just fifty years ago. Lincoln's
of the Griffith drama. In the secondhalf the South's "second uprising," this time against the carpeting regime, is shown in a thrilling story of Reconstruction days. The romance of the "little Confederate colonel," Ben Cameron, with the Northern, Elsie Stoneman, and that of the UnionistIt is impossible to explain in cold type the exceptionally funny, mystifying and interesting performance given by the Great Griffith and his exceptionally peculiar company of entertainers who opened a six night engagement at the Palace theater tonight.The show is staged to create great laughter, nothing more. No effort is made to convince the skeptics, and those enjoying the performance most,sometimes do not believe in such phenomena, yet there is no person who possesses so big a mind that he cannot lose himself in deep thought at any stage of the performance. On the other hand, there is no mind so small that it cannot be entertained.The performance is presented in a whirlwind fashion. Scientific and extraordinarily funny situations are presented in such quick succession that the audience is not given a moment to figure out how it all came about, one moment being plunged into deep thought by seeing some seeming physical impossibility, and the next con-vulsed with laughter. The fact of the matter is that you forget all about your beliefs and just laugh, that is all.Harry Morey, the popular Vitagraph actor, is playing the part of a detective in a coming feature, starring Miss Edna May. Some beautiful interior scenes were taken recently at "Castle Gould," the magnificent home of the Howard Gould Every Clarksburg Reader.The value of local evidence is indisputable. It is the kind of evidence we accept as true because we know we can prove it for ourselves.

There has been plenty of such evidence in the Clarksburg papers lately, and this straightforward testimony has established a confidence in the minds of Clarksburg people that will not be easily shaken.James W. Reed, B. and O. engineer, Williston St., Broadus Addition, Clarksburg, says: "Doan's Kid-cine I ever used. The kidney secreregular in passage. I had severe pains across my back, too. I doctor-

Proprs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.first game will be played at Buckhannon, the second at Morgantown, and the third, if necessary, at Fairmont.These games between the two largest state institutions will not necessarily decide the championship, though it would appear at this stage that the "dope" would give them a higher position in the race than the other contenders, but in spite of the result not deciding the state title the games which will soon be played will attract twice the interest from West Virginia basketball fans that any other series does. Wesleyan and West Virginia are under ordinary circumstances, preeminent in West Virginia athletics and their meeting in any branch of athletics naturally assumes state-wide importance.Although the result of these three games will not definitely decide the championship of West Virginia, it will go a long way toward doing so.
West Virginia has beaten Fairmont Normal on its own floor and at this stage of the race would apparently easily defeat it on a neutral floor.
Should West Virginia win two out of three from the Normal, the victory of the latter over Wesleyan earlier in the year at Fairmont would not out-much figure should Wesleyan in turn win two out of three from West Virginia in the coming series. Wesleyan and Fairmont Normal are not scheduled to meet on the Wesleyan floor, nor are they scheduled when the Normal beat Wesleyan the score was decidedly close and undoubtedly a game on Wesleyan's floor at this time would result in a victory and especially will this be conceded in view of Wesleyan's victory over Davis-Elkins.
This being the case it would still be necessary for Wesleyan to win the series from Davis-Elkins in order to be undisputed champions. Towards this it has already won one game, but this was on its own floor and the game at Elkins would be much more difficult. No third game is provided for between these two teams and it is likely that none will be arranged.

West Virginia does not play Davis-Elkins and this is certainly to be regretted in view of the strength of the Davis and Elkins team. It is practically certain that no team can beat Davis and Elkins on the Elkins floor. A third game, then, between Davis and Elkins has been the Wesleyan Normal at Fairmont or at Elkins. Should West Virginia also win two out of three games from Fairmont this would pretty definitely eliminate the Fairmont team, although it is certain that there are some who would cling to its victory over Wesleyan at Fairmont and especially would this be so if Wesleyan should eliminate West Virginia and Davis and Elkins.The whole matter hinges to a very large extent on the result of the Wesleyan-West Virginia series and it is certain that the sporting public of West Virginia will grant to the team winning this series the "edge" in thedistribution of the honors should nothing more decisive develop in lat-
